Assumptions Used in Arriving at Fiscal Estimate  The existing plan review processing times specified throughout various department codes are based on receipt of all forms, fees, documents and information required to complete the review. This factor in determining the starting date of processing times is not compatible with the current procedure that permits individuals to schedule a plan review appointment over the Internet or by telephone. The proposed rules are intended to clarify when the permit processing times begin, especially in light of plan review by appointment scheduling.
Long-Range Fiscal Implications No long range fiscal implications are anticipated.
